

CNIC PhDay 5th Edition: Scientific Growth

Organizers

The CNIC PhDay is a scientific meeting yearly organized by PhD students and post-doctoral scientists at the National Center for Cardiovascular Research (CNIC) in Madrid, Spain.

Scope

The CNIC PhDay is a forum where undergraduate and graduate students, lab technicians and young and senior postdoctoral researchers can exchange scientific ideas, increase their networking community and learn how to improve particular professional skills. Besides, CNIC PhDay wants to cover additional aspects of Science that are not easy to find in other scientific meetings. Opportunities for networking and poster presentations are also offered in all editions as one of the main objectives of the PhDay.

Agenda:

Friday, November 23rd

8:30-9:15	Registration
9:15-9:30	Welcome
Session I – Education for Science
9:30-10:00	Patricia Sánchez Pérez - Centro de Biología Molecular Severo Ochoa (CBMSO), Madrid (Spain) From the pipette to the chat: the Somos Científicos Experience
10:00-10:30	Florian Dehmelt - Werner Reichardt Centre for Integrative Neuroscience, Tübingen (Germany) “You're a monster!” - How to embrace public criticism of your research, and end up making new friends
10:30-10:45	To explain Poster sessions + Introducing the workshops
Simultaneous Ateliers
10:45-12:00	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Gonzalo Durante Rodríguez - Centro de Investigaciones Biológicas (CIB), Madrid (Spain) “How much water is necessary to turn off the Sun?” - Gamifying and playing science• José Luis Crespo - Autonomous University of Madrid (Alma Mater), Madrid (Spain) Scientific influencers: making science in Youtube• Marta Seror - Institute of Physics of Cantabria (IFCA) – CSIC & University of Cantabria, Santander (Spain) Pure, blazing, feminist science

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Fátima Sánchez Cabo - Centro Nacional de Investigaciones Cardiovasculares (CNIC), Madrid (Spain) Statistics: Friend, not foe
12:00-13:00	Lunch
13:00-14:00	Group Picture and then Coffee break & Main Poster Session
Session II – How to motivate the young scientific heart
14:00-14:30	Inge van der Weijden - University of Leiden, Leiden (Netherlands) Career Trajectories of PhDs
14:30-15:00	Jesús Vázquez - Centro Nacional de Investigaciones Cardiovasculares (CNIC), Madrid (Spain) The gift, the heel and the doubt
15:00-15:30	Jesús Méndez - Autonomous University of Barcelona (Alma Mater), Barcelona (Spain) A necessary bridge: Scientific communication and journalism
15:30-16:30	Coffe Break & Special Poster session
Session III – Our Social Responsibility as Scientists
16:30-17:00	Manuel Collado - Health Research Institute of Santiago de Compostela (IDIS), Santiago de Compostela (Spain) The social responsible scientist
17:00-17:45	Andreu M. Climent - Hospital Gregorio Marañón, Madrid, & Universidad Politécnica de Valencia, Valencia (Spain) Ciencia en el Parlamento: why, how and what
Closing Lecture
18:00-18:30	Margarita Salas - Centro de Biología Molecular Severo Ochoa (CBMSO), Madrid (Spain) My research experience
18:30 – 20:30	Concluding Remarks, Poster Prize Awards & Social Snack